ABOUT ME

I'm a front-end developer from Estonia. I've been in the field of IT for over a year. I started my learning with HTML and CSS. After that, I decided to explore a preprocessor - SCSS, and a CSS framework - Bootstrap.

I chose JavaScript as my programming language. After learning about its pros and cons, I started studying statically typed language - TypeScript.

My next goal is to learn the React library along with Redux because they are one of the best combinations for SPA and state management.

At the moment, I have two completed projects in which I used ESLint for code formatting.

- My first project in HTML and CSS with responsive design : ilyaosw.github.io/Strategix/
- My website built with Bootstrap, SCSS, React, and TypeScript : ilyaosw.github.io/IljaOssipov/

I'm continuing my learning journey and preparing my third project using React and Redux.
